Overall feel of the anime:

The film is very engaging and has good quality sound and background scores to help one enjoy while watching. It is a well paced film with right time of plot twists and suspense creation. The characters are also beautiful, making one to love each and every character, even the villain.

Story and Narration

The story is well scripted and has the right amount of twists and turns that would keep one thinking of the next move. The film is visualized in a proper format and flow which won't confuse the audience or the viewers and have a smooth sailing experience watching the whole film.

The anime watchers will for sure love it but the general audience will also want to watch it.

Animation in all:

The animation is close to accurate and is of 4k quality but there are frames where the animation isn't as smooth as it is supposed to be. Only the frame and character movements lack smoothness which won't be noticed by the general audience.

But the characters are designed amazingly and there is detailing in the animation which is of utmost importance for the one that is of the suspense and crime genre.

Sound and Background scores:

The sounds in the animation is one way the viewers can be kept captivated and this anime has really good sound effects with a good amount of volume.

There are no background scores as such but the opening and closing music of the anime are foot tapping good and with good bass and volume. The opening and closing are again an important aspect in anime that reminds the audience of a certain anime they watched.

Should we acquire the anime?

Yes of course, and it will be a good buy.

Is the anime streaming on any other platforms?

No. But on anime websites.
